FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1879. WE have nothing of importance to note in local trade, which still continues dull, and Island produce comes orward slowly. The exports of augar to San Francisco mted to 9468 packages, with 548 bags of rice, valued at $65,361.07. and of rice $2,180.60-a total of value of exorts for the week of $67,491. The imports for the same period will foot up (estimated) about $160,000, showing an excess of the latter over the former of $92,600.

Our advices from San Francisco are to Sept 14. We note no change in the prices of Island produce. The enemies of the Hawailan Reciprocity Treaty are actively at work in endeavoring to find reasons for its abrogation. The ides is revived that foreign grown sugars are brought here and re-exported as Hawaiian and entered free of duty at the S. F. Custom House. Here is the latest dity.-We hope the officer spoken of will come to "Amistant Secretary of the Treasury French says that the Department has been informed that Demarars sugars are entered by fraud at the San Francisco Custom-house, duty free, as sugar from the Sandwich Islands. An officer will be detailed to investigate the subject. Mr. French says that if duties had been levied on the sugars entered at San Francisco as coming from the Sandwich Islands during the last year, the Government would have received $2,000,000 revenue, and had duty been collected on the miniportations of sugar at San Francisco last mouth, the receipts would have been $150,000."

An Associate Press dispatch from New York of the little

An Associate Press dispatch from New York of the 11th says "It is known to be true" that foreign sugars are exported from these Islands to San Francisco and entered as the product of the Islands. Cannot our Minister Resident at Washington convince the authorities and people of the United States of the falsity of this injurious statement

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 4. His Majesty the King sailed for Hana, Maui, yesterday P. M. on the steamer Lehua, for a brief

H. R. H. the Princess Likelike, Governess of steamer Likelike last Monday.

THE anonymous writers of articles intended for publication in a newspaper should remember, that the invariable rule in all properly conducted establishments is, that the author's name must accompany the article when sent in-not for use, but as a proper and necessary precaution on the side of the newspaper, and as a guarantee of the reliability of the statements of facts that may be made. The author of the letter signed " Americus," which was received this week, provides a MR. H. SCHUSSLER, the skilful and energetic engineer of the Spreckles East Maui Irrigation Works-having completed his task begun a year ago of bringing the water down on to the Wai-luku Commons-took his departure for San Francisco on the mail steamer last Tuesday. The work has been one of no little magnitude, involving an outlay of over $250,000, and the ditch and piping are some 25 miles in length. More than twenty gulches have been crossed, -one, that of Maliko, several hundred feet deep,-with iron pipes 47 inches in diameter. / As we have said, the work of the engineer is complete-the water has been brought on to the level plains some three miles distant from Kabului, and the work of the agriculturist and the mill builder remains to be done. Already some thirty acres of young cane is growing thriftily on the formerly barren commons,-a precursor of the thousands of acres that will soon be planted there.

THE REGULATION by the Minister of the Interior which appeared last week in respect to the rate of speed at which drays, &c. shall be driven in the city, appears to be only partly effective, inasmuch as we still daily notice these vehicles rattling along the streets, the horses driven at a brisk trot. On looking into the subject we find the regulation in question applies only to drays, carts, etc., which are licensed to carry freight for hire. Now there are quite a number of drays and freight wagons in this city, which belong to and are employed in the business of mercantile firms, do not carry freight for hire, and therefore are not licensed. The drivers of these seem to understand that the new regulation does not apply to them, and so they continue to rattle along at the old rate of speed. But the fact that they are not licensed should not, surely, remove them beyond the control of the authorities, and we hope to see the regulation extended so as to include all drays, whether licensed or unlicensed.

THE ASPECT of affairs in the East Indies, as exhibited by the news received, is certainly very ominous. The sanguinary massacre at Cabul and the English. It is suggested in European circles that the mutiuy is the result of Russian intrigue, and the Gazette of St. Petersburg, under date of September 13th declares that England has always been the deadly enemy of Russia, and says that it is necessary to expel the British from Central Asia. But this is not so easy of accomplishment. It recommends however the sending of twenty thousand Russians to assist in defending Afghanistan. The loss of Col. Cavagnari is a serious one to the British, as he was not only a brave and prudent officer, but was very thoroughly acquainted with the people of Afghanistan. His murder will of course be properly revenged, but at the cost of many lives and much treasure. In Burmah too, things look threatening. The King has claimed the Karennee territory in a very insolent manner, which claim the Viceroy of India demands shall be promptly withdrawn, and if necessary, will enforce the de-

Recently in the British Parliament, John Bright condemned in strong terms the Beaconsfield policy in India, and generally deprecated any more conquests or wars by England in Asia, which he declared were a heavy tax on the revenues of the country without any adequate return. His remarks were received with jeers and hisses by the government majority. But coming events may show that the sturdy old Quaker will have a majority of the people of England on his side. Yet there can be no doubt that the moving cause in British operations in Central Asia is a jealousy of Russian encroachments in that direction. Were Russia out of the way, there would have been no Afghan war. Russia and England may yet, and before long too, meet on the field of battle, and then comes the tug of war in stern reality.

Masonic Dedication.

Tuesday, Sept. 30th, being the day appointed for the Dedication to Masonic purposes of the New Hall of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, F. & A. M., the Lodge was convened for the last time at the Old Lodge Room in Makee's Block, at 74 P. M., where it was joined by the members of Lodge Le Progres de l' Oceanie and Visiting Brethren.

After the usual opening ceremonies, Worshipful Master Way informed the Lodge of the special purpose for which they had been convened and of the dispensation from the Grand Lodge of California, authorizing P .: M .: Alexander J. Cartwright to represent the most Worshipful Grand Master in conducting the ceremony of dedication.

A procession was then formed in proper Masonic Order, the Brethren of Hawaiian and Le Progres Lodges acting as escort to the representatives of the Grand Lodge, comprised as follows:

Acting Grand Master. P. M. A. J. Cartwright Acting Deputy Grand Master. P. M. W. F. Allen Acting Senior Grand Warden. P. M. C. S. Bartow Acting Junior Grand Warden. P. M. J. A. Hassinger Acting Grand Orator. P. M. A. F. Judd Acting Grand Chaplain. Rev. Alex McIntosh Acting Grand Secretary & Architect. P. M. D. K. Fyfe Acting Grand Treasurer. T. F. A. Schaefer Upon arriving at the New Temple, the process sion opened ranks and reversed order, the Acting Grand Lodge passing to the front and entering the Hall, when they were escorted in procession to their respective posts, and the Brethren, led by the Lodge Officers, dividing to the right and left, took their seats in the front row of the columns ; the rear elevated seats, being reserved for the

accommodation of guests and visitors. The Acting Grand Master baving taken the presiding chair, with His Majesty P .: Mr. Kalakaua on his right, a choir of young Hawaiians, with organ accompaniment and under the direction of Rev. Brother McIntosh, rendered in an impressive manner the dedication bymn selected for the Acting Grand Master and addressed bim as follows :

Most Worshipful: The Brethren of Hawaiian Lodge, being animated with a desire of promoting the honor and interest of the Craft, have, at great pains and expense, erected this Masonic Hall for their convenience and accommodation.

They are now desirous that the same should be examined by the Representatives of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, and if it should meet your approbation, that it should be solemnly dedicated to Masonic purposes greeably to ancient form. P. M. Fyfe, Acting as Architect, then advanced and surrendered up the " Working Tools,"

Most Worshipful: Having been entrusted with the Most worshipful: having been entracted win the Superintendence and management of the workmen em-ployed in the construction of this edifice, and having according to the best of my ability accomplished the task assigned me, I now return my thanks for the honor of this appointment and beg leave to surrender up the of this appointment and beg leave to surrender up the implements which were committed to my care when the foundation of this fabric was laid; humbly hoping that the exertions which have been made on this occasion will be crowned with your approbation and that of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge.

The Acting Grand Master replied : Brother Architect: The skill and fidelity displayed in approbation, and we sincerely pray that this edince may continue a lasting monument of the taste, spirit and liberality of its founders. the execution of the trust reposed in you at the com-The Acting Deputy Grand Master then ap proached and said: Most Worshipful: The Hall in which we are now assembled and the plan upon which it has been con-structed, having met with your approbation, it is the de-sire of the fraternity that it should be now dedicated ing to saciefut form and usage. The Symbolic Lodge which had been placed East of the Altar was then uncovered, and the Hawaii, sailed for the Island of Hawaii on the Acting Grand Body forming in procession marched once around the Hall.

The Acting Junior Grand Warden then approached the Acting Grand Master, bearing a silver vessel of corn, and addressed him saying: Most Worshipful Sir: At the Dedication of Masonic Halls it hath been the custom from time immemorial to pour corn upon the Lodge as a symbol of nourishment. I therefore present you this vessel of corn to be employed in accordance with ancient usage.

The Acting Grand Master then approached the Lodge and pouring the corn upon it said: In the name of the Great Jehovah, to whom be all honor and glory, I do solemnly dedicate this Hall to

The procession again passed around the Hall, and the Acting Senior Grand Warden, bearing a silver vessel of wine, approached the Acting Grand Most Worshipful: Wine, the emblem of refreshm name of the Holy Saints John I do solemely dedicate this Hall to virtue. The procession moved around the Hall for the third time, when the Acting Deputy Grand Master bearing a silver vessel of oil, approached and Most Worshipful Grand Master: I present you, to be used according to ancient custom, this vessel of oil, an emblem of that joy which should animate every bosom on the completion of every important undertaking.

Pouring the oil upon the Lodge the Acting Grand Master said-In the name of the whole Fraternity I do solemnly dedicate this Hall to Universal Benevolence.

After each act of dedication the Brethren present all joined in giving the Public Grand Honors. . A solemn invocation was made to the Great Architect of the Universe by Acting Grand Chaplain McIntosh, and an appropriate anthem sung by

The lodge being then covered, the Acting Grand Master introduced P. M. A. F. Judd, the orator or the occasion, who spoke as follows: MOST WOBSHIPFUL GRAND MASTER, AND BRETH-REN .- At the opening of this year we met on this spot to lay the corner stone of this Temple. The year has not closed, and we are again assembled to dedicate our work to its appropriate use. Upon the dead level we beheld when last we met here, the solid perpendiculars have been raised. Skillful hands have adjusted the rude materials supplied from our Mother Earth; growing daily by the faithful contri-bution of labor, the edifice has at last arisen, finished and adapted in every part for the purpose for which

The building, situated on the principal thoroughfare of this city, symmetrical in its proportions, is an ornament to the Capital of this kingdom. Called by the partiality of Hawaiian Lodge a second time to speak in its behalf, Worshipful Sir, I again extend to you our congratulations on the final completion of our Masonic home. Our thanks are due to all who have been engaged in this work, but especially to the building committee whose labors have been irksome and difficult, but they have at length accomplished their work and now on putting off their harness, we ask them to receive our thanks the extent of the uprising indicates very clearly the | for their zeal, patience and fidelity, all of which virbitter feeling of the people of the country against | tues have had opportunities for exercise in the progress of this enterprise.

Sir, the building was not the result of accident. It shows intelligent design in every part. As it progressed from day to day the master workman direct-ing it resorted to the designs laid down on the trestle board by the Architect. If this had not been done there would have been confusion and failure. If each craftsman had pursued his own design we would have seen resulting, chaos instead of symmetry. So also, in order to the development of the highest and best character, it is equally essential that there be high and pure motive as the governing principle. We are not, as men, the mere development of what we were when born. Nor are we the accidental results of the circumstances that environ us. We are what we design and strive to be. Let each one ask himself, to-night, what am I siming at?—What am I striving to be? What is my answer? Is the main-spring of my life the mere desire for happiness.

Happiness, our being's end and aim!
Good, pleasure, ease, content! whate'er thy name
That something still which prompts the eternal sigh,
For which we bear to live, or dare to die.

Happiness cannot be obtained when it is the direct object of pursuit. When the physical enjoyments of life are sought for, and obtained with the sacrifice of purity-the cup turns into gall when it is raised to

The struggle for wealth, when unscrupulous or dishonest means are employed, brings no ease—for the unquiet conscience and remorseless memory

And wealth even if it be acquired honorably and justly, when sought for for its own sake, brings no peace, for the increased responsibility in its preservation and management bring with it, to most natures, an overwhelming weight of anxiety and

Even when lives of charity and self denial are lived merely that the soul may find rest and happiness-no happiness comes-for no one who lives for himself can purchase peace, however heroic his sacrifices may be. To forget self and to do one's whole duty to God and man—this alone can bring lasting happiness! In performing our duty, our conciences, enlightened by constant looking to God for direction, must unvaryingly be obeyed, The con-sciousness of doing what is right, even when what men call disaster and sorrow comes, alone preserves the inward peace.

Too often in every form of human society, these is wont to be engendered strifes, bickerings, traducings of character and motives, and the spirit of "harmony which should be the strength of all institutions " takes to itself wings and flies away. To this the fraternity of which we are members, forms unhappily no exception. To preserve harmony no rule of human philosophy can supplant the precept of the Great Apostle, "In honor preferring

If any shall ask, " How shall I know what my duty is ?" We are all referred to the "Great Light" ever spread open in all our Lodges-the Guide of our frith and practice. This Masonic Trestle Board whereupon the great Architect of the Universe has laid down the designs which each one must follow if he rears his moral fabric aright. no one ever consulted, with a sincere desire to and the light, but If we study this book we shall find the first precept of duty is "Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy soul and all thy mind and all thy strength," and the second precept is the one adopted by Masons, "and thy neighbor as thyself." These two cannot be divorced, for on them both together, not on each one dissevered from the other, hang all the law and the prophets." Let us adopt as Masons both of these precepts. This Noble Hall in which we are convened, comfortably furnished and well ventilated invites all the members of our Body to gather in its ample space, for mutual improvement and pleasant fraternal

But in order to excite and preserve the interest of the membership in these gatherings, there should be furnished for the entertainment of the craft something more than the accustomed ceremonials and the old routine of business.

There is nothing anti-masonic, as I read the law, in having carefully prepared lectures or essays delivered at stated times by those who are qualified, and their number is not few, upon such themes as interest the intellect and improve the heart. Such subjects as are in accord with the spirit of our Order. are living questions with each one of us, and if we talk about them at our houses and with our neigh- Stationery,

Then, too, there is much in the beautiful ritual of our work, unknown to the profane, which could be brightened up and kept alive among the columns, if they displaced the profitless disputations that sometimes consume the time of our stated communications. The use of music, by which the noble Worshipful Master Way then approached the hymns and odes which have cheered the spirits of the Brethern under all climes and in every age, can be made to inspire us, needs no recommendation from me, after what our ears have listened to-night.

"The man that hath no music in himself, Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils; The motions of his spirit are dull as night, And his affections dark as Erebus; Let no such man be trusted.'

This Hall has been consecrated in the name of the great Jehovah, " which teaches us to acknowledge, adore and magnify Him in all our works." May this hall be the happy resort of piety, virtue and benevolence. May it be protected from fire and accident; may Time, the great destroyer, deal gently with its walls and may it long remain a standing monument of the attachment of the brethren here associated to the principles of our Order.

After the oration, congratulations were passed between the brethren and assembled visitors, and the Lodges, forming again, returned to their Old Hall where for the last time the gavel was heard in the closing ceremonies of the mystic rite. The present is an appropriate moment to call to mind some of the records of Hawaiian Lodge. It
